The course is suitable for advanced students and students with some experience in the Taiji forms to be taught.

During intensive study of the various forms and practice with a partner (sequence, application and meaning) students can experience the relaxation, letting go and flow of movement in Taiji Quan.

Beginners and advanced students alike, benefit from intensive study in a holiday atmosphere.

We emphasize that the course cannot take the place of any medical or psychological treatment.
Anyone undergoing such treatment should discuss this with the course instructor and their therapist or doctor in advance, to ascertain whether they should participate in the seminar.
